HOW HOSTS FIND VENDORS TODAY and why it keeps failing them

Instagram DMs & WhatsApp groups

No way to compare pricing, availability, or past work quality across multiple vendors at once

No comparison

Word-of-mouth referrals

Outdated contacts, irrelevant suggestions, zero transparency on current pricing or availability

Unreliable

Generic Google searches

Results have no event context they don't know the guest count, date, budget, or occasion

No context

Last-minute scrambles

Cancellations with no vetted backup leaving hosts stranded days before their event

High risk

Invytt fixes this. Every host on the platform is actively planning an event and looking for trusted vendors at the exact moment they need to book.

WHO WE ARE

THE PEOPLE behind INVYTT.

We're building India's event planning platform from the ground up here's who we are and why we're doing it.

Sanskar Mohanty

CO-FOUNDER

My background is presales and solutioning years of figuring out what people actually need before jumping to a fix. Invytt came from something I kept noticing: people across India celebrate every single day, but finding the right vendor still comes down to asking a friend or hoping a random search works out. That hasn't changed in years. Invytt is where that changes a platform that connects great vendors with people who are actively looking for them, at the right moment. If you're a vendor who takes pride in your craft, Invytt is your stage. Let's build something India hasn't seen before, together.

Siddhant Gupta

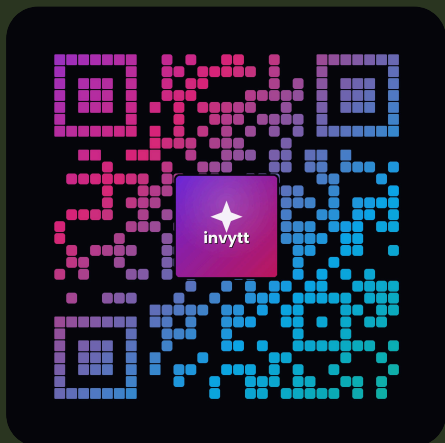

CO-FOUNDER

I'm a backend engineer turned founder, obsessed with building tools that actually work. I built Invytt because vendors deserve more than word of mouth and DMs a marketplace where discovery, bookings, and trust are built in from day one.
